

Clarification on yard sales from the Regional Emergency Management Coordinator

Question:

Yard Sales permitted?

Answer:

As New Brunswick moves into recovery for COVID-19, Phase 2 (Orange Phase) is meant to balance the reopening and revitalization of the economy while preventing a resurgence of transmission. To assist in this endeavour, the Office of the Chief Medical Officer of Health has advised against gatherings and other activities that would detract from this objective.

As per the Mandatory Order, only outdoor gatherings of up to 10 people are allowed. A yard sale is an event that draws crowds and land owners would not be in a position to reasonably prevent people from gathering on their property. As such, yard sales are not permitted at this time.
